Blessings of the Season

From Kathleen's Barn

---

Dear All-

For much of last winter, the deer took to bedding down in the snow drifts under the white pines by the pond in the back of my property. My friend Susan Lerner caught this view early, one February morning.

I would wake up, and look down to see the rising steam of their morning breath. It was animal magic, to be sure. Soon this rafter of turkeys (who knew?! ) began to make their daily pass through. Everyone seemed so content down there together.

On the cusp of the New Year, I want to take this opportunity to acknowledge the generosity of those who offered financial support at a critical juncture. The ultimate resolution of 33 Broadway is still in process. More to be revealed.....

Here is this line found in the Episcopal Church's Book of Common Prayer from the service of Compline: grant that we may never forget our common life depends upon each other's toil.

I now know this truth ever more deeply;
I am so very grateful to all of you...

and pray our common missions may continue to ignite and sustain in these great times!

All my warmth,
Kathleen C. Mandeville

A deep thank you to all who have offered time, talent, labor & financial contributions here @ 33 Broadway
