This process has been both humbling and exhilarating--

I have heard what is going on in so many people's lives as I have shared my challenges and they have shared theirs, re-animating new and old connections.

It is creating a galvanizing alchemy, a ferment of ideas, collaborations waiting to happen, needs shared, bringing new possibility...

and THAT is, somehow, the point, the "soul" of these challenging times.

It is astounding to be reminded we are part of a powerful, and magical and holy and wonderful network of extraordinary people who are living and loving and working and making together...

Here is a visual archive of the many past events that have taken place here.

Kathleen's Barn now has a Face Book page where you can share an experience, memory, photos, etc.

(ok, ok)

Feel free to Like, Poke, Share, Post, Comment, Upload and Friend.

It is so heartening and we are so close.

This is a testament to what communities can and will do for each other.

That even in these major hard times, people are stepping forward is a sign this mission can and will continue to be a place for community, for art, for people to be transformed and connect...

Looking forward to having a big, fat, glorious celebration event together!

Join Kathleen's Barn on FaceBook and share it!

As Always, Hope to See You Here!
